HISTORY TOLD SLANT ON VIEW THROUGH AUG. 7, 2022

History Told Slant installation view at the Eli and Edythe Broad Art Museum at Michigan State University, 2022. Photo: Eat Pomegranate Photography.

History Told Slant: Seventy-seven Years of Collecting Art at MSU takes an expansive view of the collection at the MSU Broad Art Museum, reveling in the great breadth of works within the collection while also confronting the dominant (and domineering) narratives that shape its contours. Taking cue from the great poet Emily Dickinson, who encourages us to "tell all the truth but tell it slant," the exhibition breaks with conventions of the western art historical canon in order to acknowledge gaps and fissures within the collection. Support is provided by the Alan and Rebecca Ross endowed exhibition fund.

CELEBRATING ZAHA HADID'S DESIGNS OPENING SEPT. 10, 2022

Celebrating Zaha Hadid's Designs celebrates the tenth anniversary of the MSU Broad Art Museum's building, created by the late architect Zaha Hadid. This design-focused retrospective explores Hadid's pioneering vision, from idea to implementation, through a robust survey of design objects (tables, chairs, bookshelves, pendant lamps) as well as sketches, paintings, video animations, and product concepts. The ideas, exploration of materials, and compositional schemes present in her design objects will stand in dialogue with the museum's own architectural design.
